

Milena Arango

Veins, Transitions, Gratitude. Time cures. Work takes time and experience. And things eventually do heal. Follow the path, believe in your instinct. Always try new things, give yourself an opportunity to get lost finding your own ways. My work is my umbilical cord, my Headphone to the ground, my connection with myself, my inner voice speaking outloud. This cord has led me to an unknow camaleonic path. Revealing and healing. How far can your imagination get? You can only work with one piece. No assistant, only the work of art and you.

Find locations, places to hide away and cry

Breathe and créate. It's a brief moment.

The wind might blow,

the sand will say.

Think purpura,

femenine and again.

VTG / Revelaciones

Digital Print on paper

37 in. x 41in.

$1700.00